Inverted Commas

I can use inverted commas for direct speech.

1. Look at the speech bubbles and use inverted commas to show direct speech. For example:

Dan

'Hello Dan. How are you?'

Gemma

'Hello Dan. How are you?' asked Gemma.

a)

Mike

What did you think of the football match?

b)

Jade

I love ice cream.

c)

Yasmin

Oh no! I didn't mean to upset you!

d)

James

How am I going to learn all these spellings?

Inverted Commas

I can use inverted commas for direct speech.

1. Add the correct punctuation for direct speech, using inverted commas. For example,

'Hello Dan. How are you?' asked Gemma.

a) What did you think of the football match questioned Mike.

b) I love ice cream commented Janaid.

c) Oh no I didn't mean to upset you exclaimed Yasmin.

d) The referee declared Mike is terrible.

e) James worried quietly how am I going to learn all these spellings.

f) Are you going to the cinema this weekend asked Jane.

g) Caroline explained everyone makes mistakes.

h) I hope you like your present muttered Nick shyly.

Inverted Commas

I can use inverted commas for direct speech.

1. Add the correct punctuation for direct speech, using inverted commas. For example,

'Hello Dan. How are you?' asked Gemma.

a) What did you think of the football match questioned Mike.

b) I love ice cream commented Janaid.

c) Oh no I didn't mean to upset you exclaimed Yasmin.

2. Add the correct punctuation for direct speech when the speech is interrupted. For example,

'Dan,' said Gemma, 'how are you?'

a) The referee declared mike is terrible.

b) James worried quietly how am I going to learn all these spellings.

c) Are you going to the cinema this weekend asked Jane or have you decided not to.

d) Everyone makes mistakes Caroline explained Leah so you shouldn't be so embarrassed.

e) I hope you like your present muttered Nick shyly because it took me ages to choose it.